

Elisse O'Leary

People & Culture Development Consultant, HR

Elisse has worked primarily in the energy and education sectors for large organisations including Oil Search, Navitas, Ausgrid and EnergyAustralia. Areas of speciality include talent development, succession planning, performance development, mentoring programs, leadership development, coaching programs and engagement surveys.

Elisse's aim is to work closely with her clients, understand their priorities and the demands of their school or faculty within the UNSW context, and then deliver practical, useful programs or coaching that assists them to achieve their goals.

Elisse joined UNSW Australia in May 2014 and will be the People and Culture consultant for both Science and Built Environment as well as driving organisation wide projects and programs. Elisse has a Bachelor of Commerce and Masters of Education from UNSW, as well as accreditation in a range of diagnostic tools including LSI, MBTI, Prosci and DiSC.
