The criteria used to determine excellence in teaching seek to recognise the diverse contributions of a wide range of staff. They are aligned with the Australian Learning and Teaching Council (ALTC) Awards for Australian University Teaching.

The UNSW Vice-Chancellor’s Awards for Teaching Excellence is underpinned by our values, as defined in the B2BBlueprint to Beyond: UNSW Strategic Intent document.

These are:

1. Academic Freedom
2. Leadership
3. Innovation, initiative and creativity
4. Recognition of merit and excellence
5. Integrity and high ethical standards
6. Equity, opportunity and diversity
7. Mutual respect, collegiality and teamwork
8. Professionalism, accountability, and transparency
9. Safety
10. Sustainability
11. High service standards
2. Awards

The Vice-Chancellor’s Awards for Teaching Excellence recognise outstanding teaching at UNSW. In particular, they recognise the diverse contribution that UNSW staff make to the quality of student learning. Awards will be made to staff for a wide range of contributions where their achievements are clearly demonstrated.

Categories of Awards

The Awards will be allocated each year to those who have made a significant contribution to student learning in a specific area of responsibility over a sustained period of time under the following categories:

- Teaching Excellence (up to six Awards)

- Heinz Harant Award for Teaching Innovation (up to one Award)
  The Heinz Harant Award for Teaching Innovation is a special category of Teaching Excellence. It is made in memory of the late Heinz Harant, one of the University’s earliest alumni and dedicated supporters. After graduating with a degree in Electrical Engineering he devoted many years of service to student life on campus. He was instrumental in founding the University’s Alumni Association. The Award recognises staff members whose innovation has fundamentally challenged orthodoxy in their disciplinary context in recognition of Heinz Harant’s personal commitment to innovation and change.

  Only the six nominees selected for the Teaching Excellence Award may be considered for the additional Heinz Harant Award (if the nominee has so elected). Nominations will be assessed on the additional evidence provided in relation to the extent to which the teaching innovations identified that enhance learning and teaching, challenge orthodoxy.

- Excellence in Sessional Teaching
  (General- up to one Award)
  (Tutors and Laboratory Demonstrators - up to two Awards)
  The Vice-Chancellor’s Awards for Excellence in Sessional Teaching recognise the invaluable contribution that sessional teaching staff make to the quality of student learning at UNSW.
The Awards

Each Award for Teaching Excellence consists of the presentation of an engraved UNSW medallion and the payment of a sum of $7,500.

The winner of the Award for Teaching Excellence that is also successful in their nomination for the Heinz Harant Award will receive an additional sum of $2,500 (Total award $10,000).

The Award for Excellence in Sessional Teaching (General) consists of the presentation of an engraved UNSW medallion and the payment of a sum of $3,000.

Each Award for Excellence in Sessional Teaching (Tutors and Laboratory Demonstrators) consists of the presentation of an engraved UNSW medallion and the payment of a sum of $1,000.

The monetary component of the Awards is subject to taxation.

The Award, on request, can be paid by UNSW to the Department or School in which the academic(s) are employed, to be used by them in a teaching related project.
3. Selection Criteria

Nominees for the Teaching Excellence Awards will be assessed on written evidence they provide in relation to Criteria 1-5 below. Nominees are not expected to provide evidence of excellence in all areas, but should build a profile that best highlights their achievements. The Award focuses on sustained involvement in high quality learning and teaching. A claim for research-enhanced learning and teaching may be made under each criterion as appropriate.

Nominees for the Heinz Harant Award must, in addition, address Criteria 6.

Nominees for both Sessional Teaching Awards will be assessed on evidence they provide in a written statement in relation to two of the first five criteria.

In addressing the following criteria, nominees should not feel limited to these illustrative examples.

1. Approaches to teaching that influence, motivate and inspire students to learn
   For example:
   - fostering student development by stimulating curiosity and independence in learning
   - contributing to the development of students’ critical thinking skills, analytical skills and scholarly values
   - encouraging student engagement through the enthusiasm shown for learning and teaching
   - inspiring and motivating students through high-level communication, presentation and interpersonal skills.

2. Development of curriculum and resources that reflect a command of the field
   For example:
   - developing and presenting coherent and imaginative resources for student learning
   - implementing research-led approaches to learning and teaching
   - demonstrating up-to-date knowledge of the field of study in the design of the curriculum and the creation of resources for learning
   - communicating clear objectives and expectations for student learning.

3. Approaches to assessment and feedback that foster independent learning
   For example:
   - integrating assessment strategies with the specific aims and outcomes for student learning
   - providing timely, worthwhile feedback to students on their learning
   - using a variety of assessment and feedback strategies
   - implementing both formative and summative assessment
   - adapting assessment methods to different contexts and diverse student needs.
4. Respect and support for the development of students as individuals
   For example:
   - participating in the effective and empathetic guidance and advising of students
   - encouraging students from equity, disability and other demographic subgroups to participate and achieve success in their courses
   - responsiveness to diversity among students and support for international students in learning and teaching practice
   - influencing the overall academic, social and cultural experience of higher education.

5. Scholarly activities that have influenced and enhanced learning and teaching
   For example:
   - showing advanced skills in evaluation and reflective practice
   - participating in and contributing to professional activities related to learning and teaching
   - coordination, management and leadership of courses and student learning
   - conducting and publishing research related to teaching
   - demonstrating leadership through activities that have broad influence on the profession.

6. Approaches to teaching that challenge orthodoxy in the applicant’s discipline
   For example:
   - introducing an approach to teaching that is not typically found in their discipline
   - innovations that encourage or support cross-disciplinary approaches to learning and teaching
   - innovations that utilise the potential of new and/or emerging technologies.

   Note that the innovation may be in regard to any aspect of teaching, such as, the role of the student in the classroom, student engagement, curriculum design, assessment and feedback practices, and so on.

The first five criteria (and examples) are based on those used in the ALTC Awards for Australian University Teaching. The criteria also reflect current learning and teaching policies and initiatives at UNSW.
Assessing applications
The applications will be judged on the quality of the nomination against the criteria and the extent to which they show evidence in the written statement that their contribution has:

1. influenced student learning, student engagement or the overall student experience;
2. gained recognition from fellow staff and/or UNSW;
3. been sustained over time;
4. the extent to which the claims for excellence are supported by a range of formal and informal evaluation;

6. the information contained in references and supporting statements. The Committee may contact nominees and/or referees for clarification or further information; and
7. the contribution that the applicant’s teaching has made to UNSW learning and teaching priority goals (as set out in the current UNSW Learning and Teaching Enhancement Plan).

The frequency of distribution of Awards to particular Schools/Faculties will not be taken into account.

The recommendations of the UNSW Teaching Excellence Committee shall be approved by the Vice-Chancellor or by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) and in doing so they will ensure that any nominee recommended for an Award will have adhered to what the University values, as defined in the B2B Blueprint to Beyond: UNSW Strategic Intent document.

The page limits for the written statement for each category of Award are as follows:

Teaching Excellence Awards – 8 A4 pages (note, Heinz Harant Award – one additional A4 page, that is, 9 A4 pages in total)
UNSW Vice-Chancellor’s Award for Teaching Excellence 2010

i. Overview

ii. Selection criteria

i. Overview

The overview provides the opportunity for nominees to commence the written statement with a focus on the specific character of their teaching and achievements. It should be no more than one page, including discussion of:

- teaching experience and responsibilities at all levels
- the rationale behind the nominee’s approach to learning and teaching
- reflections on feedback collected and the changes made to teaching practices in response to this feedback
- an integrated summary of the claims of innovation relating to the selection criteria.

ii. Written Statement on Selection Criteria

The selection criteria are outlined in Section 3.

In this part of the written statement, Nominees for Teaching Excellence Awards are required to address the first five selection criteria. Written statements on the first five selection criteria for Teaching Excellence Awards should be no more than 7 A4 pages. Individual Nominees for the Teaching Excellence Award who also wish to be considered for the Heinz Harant Award must address Criteria 6 in an additional written statement. Written statements in relation to Criteria 6 must be no more than one A4 page.

Nominees for Sessional Teaching Awards are required to address two of the first five selection criteria. Written statements for Sessional Teaching Awards should be no more than 3 A4 pages.

It is essential that nominees describe their contribution to student learning with regard to the selection criteria and provide evidence to support their claims. In addressing the selection criteria, nominees are expected to present a succinct, cogent case for innovation and excellence in relation to the criteria, and refer to appropriate forms of evidence.

Evidence may include:
- Demonstrable impact on student learning (academic results, retention rates etc.)
- Student feedback, including CATEI results and informal unsolicited comments
- Feedback from peers
- Evidence of participation in the scholarship of learning and teaching
- Evidence of participation in staff development activities related to learning and teaching
- Contributions to a teaching committee

(c) Curriculum vitae
The curriculum vitae should outline the nominee’s educational qualifications, career history, teaching positions and teaching experience. The curriculum vitae must be no more than 2 A4 pages for nominations from individuals. In the case of team nominations, a limit of 1 A4 page per team member is recommended.

(d) Supporting material (optional)
The Award will be based primarily on the written statement addressing the selection criteria. In exceptional circumstances, nominees may include select teaching materials that support/demonstrate claims of teaching innovation and excellence against the criteria. For example, audio-visual material, CD ROMs, study guides, course outlines or contributions to curriculum design. Since these materials will need to be evaluated by committee members, they necessarily must be restricted to essential items only. References to the materials must be included in the written statement.

Two references of no more than 1 A4 page each must be provided by people who are able to comment on the nominated initiative; a nominating staff member is not eligible to be a referee.

5. Head of School Report

Applications should include a report from the Head of School on the nominated initiative in relation to the Selection Criteria. If the Head of School is a nominator, this report is not required.

6. Submission of Complete Applications

Completed applications (including all relevant documentation) should be submitted to the relevant Head of School by Friday 3 September 2010.

7. School VCATE Review Panels

Each Head of School is responsible for establishing and convening a VCATE Review Panel, comprising appropriately qualified members of the academic staff of the School, to review and provide formative feedback on applications to nominees from the School. The feedback provided should be aligned to the selection criteria and focused on the extent to which the applicants have made, and provided evidence to support their case for the development and delivery of an initiative that has led to a sustained enhancement of student learning experience. The School review process should be completed in time for nominees to respond to the feedback, prior to the deadline for submission of revised applications to HR.

Heads of School should forward details of the School’s VCATE Review Panel to HR by Friday 17 September 2010. These details should include: (a) the names of members of the panel, (b) the date and time that the panel met to consider applications, (c) a prioritised list of the applications supported by the panel with a rational for the prioritization, should more than one application be received.

9. Faculty VCATE Committee consideration and endorsement

The Faculty VCATE Committee will consider applications, and where it is agreed the nominee has met the criteria (refer Section 3), they will be endorsed. Where multiple applications are endorsed for the same category, the Faculty VCATE Committee will rank them.

The Faculty VCATE Committee will comprise of:
Dean or Senior Associate Dean (Chair)
Associate Dean (Education) or nominee
Senior Faculty member
Previous teaching award recipient (either from within the Faculty or another Faculty)
Student representative – either undergraduate or postgraduate

Applications that the Faculty VCATE Committee does not endorse will be returned to and discussed with the Lead Applicant. The Lead Applicant may choose to either withdraw the application for the current year, or submit it for consideration by the University Committee without the endorsement of the Faculty VCATE Committee. Lack of Faculty VCATE Committee endorsement will not impact on the University Teaching Excellence Committee’s assessment of the application – all applications will be assessed independently against the Selection Criteria.

10. Faculty Submission of Endorsed and Ranked Applications

Applications endorsed and ranked by Faculty VCATE committees must be forwarded, along with the Faculty VCATE Endorsement summary sheet, nomination forms and all accompanying documentation and materials, to Human Resources, First Floor, the Chancellery by Monday 1 November 2010.

The degree of success of previous applications will not be taken into account, although previous nominations might be prima facie evidence of sustained excellence in initiatives that enhance student learning experience.

The frequency of distribution of Awards to particular Schools/Faculties will not be taken into account.

The recommendations of the UNSW Teaching Excellence Committee shall be approved by the Vice-Chancellor or by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) and in doing so they will ensure that any initiative recommended for an Award is aligned with the strategic priorities of the University, as defined in the B2B Blueprint to Beyond: UNSW Strategic Intent document.

12. Notification of decision and Award presentations

Nominees will be notified of the Committee’s decisions in December, and Awards will be presented at the recipients’ Faculty graduation ceremony.
5. Application details

Applications should be presented in 1.5 line spacing in at least 12 point type and in the order set out below.

a. Synopsis (maximum 100 words)
b. Written statement (maximum 5 A4 pages)
c. Supporting material (optional)

Page limits must be strictly adhered to. Submissions should not be bound but should be clearly paginated and held together by a fold back clip or paper binder. Supporting material should be packaged and appropriately labelled.

(a) Synopsis

Applications should include a synopsis that provides a succinct summary of the case they have put forward in their application for the Award (100 word limit), clearly indicating the category of award the initiative falls under.

Should the nomination be successful, the synopsis will be used in communications regarding the recipient’s success.

(b) Written statement

The core element of an application is the Written Statement in which applicants describe their program in relation to the Selection Criteria.

Written Statements should explain how the four criteria (refer Section 3) are addressed in the category of award in which the initiative falls under, and refer to evidence to support those claims.

Applicants are not expected to provide evidence of excellence in all areas, but should build a profile that best highlights their achievements.

The Written Statement should be presented under the following headings in the order indicated below, and should not exceed 5 A4 pages in total.

1. Overview

   The overview provides the opportunity for applicants to commence the Written Statement with a focus on the specific character of their initiative. The word limit is strictly 350-400 words. It should indicate the category of award under which the initiative falls and include:

   - a description of the initiative and its teaching areas;
   - the key aspects of the initiative’s contribution to student learning experience; and
   - its impact on student learning.
2. Selection criteria

In this part of the Written Statement, Applicants must describe their contribution to student learning with regard to the Selection Criteria (refer Section 3) and provide evidence to support their claims. Indicators could include:

- Student experience feedback;
- demonstrable impact on student learning (academic results, retention rates etc.); and
- peer review and feedback.

(c) Supporting material (optional)

The Award will be based primarily on the Written Statement. In exceptional circumstances, nominees may include select materials that support the criteria. For example, audio-visual material, CD ROMs, study guides, documentation relating to the initiative. Since these materials will need to be evaluated by committee members, they necessarily must be restricted to essential items only. References to the relevant parts/aspects of these materials MUST be included in the Written Statement.
